

Hover Table

Hover Desk consists of three individual tabletops, each equipped with its own electric lifting column. The columns are centrally connected and housed within a softly triangular structure made from felt, giving the desk both visual and acoustic softness.

Central Lifting Point

Thanks to the single central lifting point for each tabletop, there are no legs or frames in the way – creating generous legroom and a clean, open floor space. This not only enhances comfort but also makes cleaning underneath the desk effortless.

The tabletops can be slid forward to create space for privacy panels and cable trays, allowing for practical workspace customization.
